Designs on London

The London Design Festival descends on the capital from 17th-25th September. With over 200 events and exhibitions taking place, where do you start? We'll be checking out contemporary craft at Origin (22nd-28th September, originuk.org) at Spitalfields Market, before dropping by design store SCP (scp.co.uk) to see Donna Wilson's rugs, then heading west to the Marimekko pop-up shop at Heal's (heals.co.uk). A quick stop at Liberty (liberty.co.uk) to follow textile and wallpaper firm Timorous Beasties' intriguing 'moth trail' then it's off to Decorex (decorex.com) at the Royal Hospital, Chelsea (public day 27th September, 1pm-7pm), and Focus 2011 at Chelsea Harbour's Design Centre (dcch.co.uk), from 25th-28th September (public day 28th September), to find out what will be in our homes next year. 020 7734 6444; londondesignfestival.com

Graceful class

Sassy socialites can pep up their homes with Villa Nova's new 1950s inspired fabric collection 'High Society' (£35.50 per m). It comes in six pastel colourways of 'autumn', 'berry', 'cherry', 'pear', 'shell' and 'wisteria'. We're in love with the 'Tea At The Ritz' print, which would look great as girly cushions. 01623 736699; villanova.co.uk
