

ENTER IN STYLE AT DECOREX 2011

With a host of exciting plans underway for Decorex International 2011, the organisers have announced that interior designer Nicky Haslam will be designing and curating the lobby area to this year's event. Following the creative footsteps of designers such as Ed Godrich, John Stefanidis and Nina Campbell, Nicky and his team will create a stunning and theatrical area, using their years of design expertise and showcasing their own product and that of Decorex's much loved exhibitors. Decorex International is very excited about Nicky's plans for the lobby, creating a sense of occasion by adding style and theatre to the visitor's experience.
