

Tigermoth Lighting launched their first collection at Decorex 2009 and have exhibited every year since.

“It’s a highlight of the annual calendar in the British interiors trade and we wouldn’t miss it for the world!”

Why is exhibiting at Decorex important to Tigermoth Lighting?

“One of the things we love about Decorex is that it is that the whole event is designed for interior designers and other businesses in the interiors trade. Our business is geared towards supporting our trade clients and that makes Decorex a great match for us.

Our existing clients love visiting our stand to get inspired by our new product releases. We also always meet new clients at the show and so it’s a lovely mix. Clients who visit our stand at Decorex will file away our details and contact us months or even years later.”

What is special about Decorex?

“I think it’s the sense of community and of the getting together of everyone who is anyone in interiors. The British interior design industry is so vibrant and has so much to offer, I am so proud of the part that Tigermoth plays in it.”

What are you most looking forward to at Decorex 2021?

“We cannot wait to see our clients again and show them all the beautiful new products we are working on. We see ourselves very much as collaborators in design with our talented clients and the opportunity to meet in person and work together again is something we cannot wait for!”
